LOSES FINGER IN CIRCULAR SAW

When his middle finger came suddenly in contact with a circular saw, James Maracle, Deseronto, was rushed to the office of Dr. J. J. Robertson where after careful examination the finger in its entirety was amputated last Thursday evening.

Mr. Maracle was working in Deseronto in a wood yard cutting wood with a circular saw. As he pushed a piece of wood towards the saw the finger in his right hand slipped and he suffered the painful injury of having his middle finger on the right hand badly ripped and torn by the saw. The saw entered the finger just below the thumb nail and he was unable to move it.

HIGH COST OF ACCIDENT

The direct cost of accidents in industry in Ontario alone $126 million in 1931. The Workmen's Compensation Act came into force in 1915, and since that time the cost of accidents has increased approximately one hundred fold. It is estimated that in the last year alone there have been ten thousand cases by an insurance company which cost it over $100,000,000. The cost of direct compensation and medical aid there is a loss to industry of four dollars.

Indirect cost of accidents is the loss of the suffering and privation of families and dependants which follows many accidents. It is up to a total of loss cannot be measured.

It is no wonder that there is a feeling that employers should never let up in the campaign of advising their workmen to exercise caution. Every accident is a loss to some one and to many. Compensation may in a few cases benefit an individual but it is an irrevocable loss to industry.

The worker who is not careful in his own work endures and endures the employer's plant than any other factor. Compensation is only an effort to help out where something irretrievable has happened. It does not claim to replace the loss and compensate for the loss.

WAR TACTICS

The death of Lord Roberts recalls the gloomiest day of the South African War when three disaster-bellied British armies because the war was a tactical one.

It is different to that of any other of military thought. General Galtre had something to say about the tactics of the war. He was a tactical expert.

When came the Great War with quite new tactics though some were as old as the hills of Greece and its predecessors. The tactics of the war were as old as the hills of Greece and its predecessors.

REAL ROBINSON CRUSOE

Who says truth is not stranger than fiction? Robinson Crusoe on an island off the Chilean coast gave the sailor who had followed his tracks the ship escaped in the brush after a brief parley. While he was in contact with him his voice was a make-up of guttural sounds.

Robinson Crusoe was and is one of the world's greatest stories and will always appeal to the reader. But life in its infiniteness is more and more a greater than any story. The difficulty with life is to get at full knowledge of it in all its phases. The public today is doing so. It drives us to such works as Robinson Crusoe.

GRASS ON CITY STREETS

The picture of the grass growing on the streets of a hundred metropolitan cities in the United States if Democratic in its nature. It is a picture of a city that did not see the usual Hoover who drew it. The words sound melodramatic.

As a matter of fact even if the Democrats are in the majority, it is not as bright as the Rooseveltians depict them. The picture is a picture of a city that did not see the usual Hoover who drew it.

SIDELIGHTS
GRAVE AND GAY

By Alms Michaelis

He was poised and cool and when she broke the seal, she was here then, as she walked along.

No one could have guessed what her heart was. Or the quick, fierce throb in her pulse.

One could never have guessed the ecstasy. Which lifted her thoughts as she read those lines.

Her thoughts, as glad as the leaves on a tree. That dance in the wind when the gold sun shines.

But I passed so near, as her lashes swept. For an instant up, I could see in her eyes. The stars that once in their soft sleep.

Were blazing out in their sapphirine sleep. And I knew her joy was a wave at the crest. Which must lift and break as the sea.

For I saw the sudden swell of her breast. As the tide rose and capture went flooding. Through!

GRASS WILL GROW on hundreds of city streets, if Franklin D. Roosevelt is elected president of the United States and Democratic tariff policies are put into effect.

According to President Hoover in a speech delivered in New York City Monday night and broadcast over a nation-wide radio network.

It is a reminder of the President's speech in Chicago, declared that grass would grow on the streets of New York City if the tariff was destroyed, but said he, destroy your cities and they will spring up again.

MONTREAL—Dropping stones into deep water has always been a fascinating sport, but it is now being used as a method of constructing a dam. This was the experience of engineers at a dam in Canada, on the Saguenay river in northeastern Quebec, where a dam was completed by the unique method of building it on dry land and toppling it into place with the aid of blasting powder. The story of exhaustive laboratory tests which produced the remarkable piece of engineering has been made public by a newspaper, who was in charge of preliminary work.

Despite lack of precedent and expense to guide them engineers succeeded in constructing the dam and toppling it into the river within an hour of the spot where it was to be done. The dam was built on dry land and was then toppled into the river. The dam was built on dry land and was then toppled into the river.

General Motors invites Canadian motorists to aid in designing cars from the "driver's point of view"

THERE is only one person qualified to say just what the motorist prefers and that person is the motorist himself.

So, Mr. Motorist, we invite you to step out of the driver's seat and up to the engineer's desk——to tell General Motors the kind of automobile you would build—the features you want most on your next car!

Join the 150,000 motorists, living in all parts of Canada, driving all makes of cars, whom we have asked to give "the driver's viewpoint" on improving motor cars.

In effect, we are conducting a Canada-wide poll on automobile design. We are asking motorists to check, through a novel questionnaire, 112 questions affecting the appearance, comfort, driving ease, safety, performance and maintenance of an automobile.

Perhaps you have not yet received one of the 150,000 questionnaires already sent out—as it is almost impossible to cover every motorist at once. But we want the practical, automobile-ideas of every interested person throughout the Dominion of Canada.

So we invite you to give us the benefit of your viewpoints as a user—to pool your practical driving experience with the technical knowledge of General Motors engineers—to the end that our latest cars and facilities may be most effectively utilized.

TO ALL MERCHANTS MANUFACTURERS AND BANKERS

This is the way to BETTER BUSINESS

"Before there is any great upturn in volume of sales for manufacturers of trade-marked merchandise, there must inevitably be a great upturn in advertising volume.

"Because, merchandising embraces every marketing process involved in getting a commodity from the factory to the consumer. Not merely from the factory to the salesman. Not from the salesman to the wholesaler. Nor from the wholesaler to the retailer. But all the way from the factory to the consumer. Including all the in-between stopping-places.

"Merchandising is complete trade. Goods fully sold. Commodities taken to their cash-yielding terminal. When this last step rounds out the procedure... when the ultimate user's cash flows back through the channels of trade... and the way is opened for repeat sales... then we have Business."★

HERE WE HAVE THE ECONOMIC BASIS OF ADVERTISING

For if we agree that merchandising requires this completion of selling, so that goods go into use and are used up, then we establish the place of advertising as a business essential. Advertising holds its position because it simplifies dealing with the public—as to effort, time and cost. It is an intrinsic part of selling at that last step which actually moves the goods into consumers' hands.

Advertising in the Daily Newspapers—if it is geared by intelligent and trained men to do its necessary share in the job of selling—is an unchanging dominant power—the most rapid, direct, simple and economic contact with Canadian consumers.

REPEAL TO FORE

Million Men to Work
Overnight if Democrats
Win, Assertion

New York, Nov. 3 (CP)—Those poor fellows in the United States election campaign, prohibition and tariff, were well paid for their efforts yesterday with a heavy dose of Democratic victory on November 3. The tariff question by the president himself.

Mr. Hoover called upon the records of a former Canadian Minister of Internal Revenue in an attempt to show he had spent outside the United States that a Democratic victory on November 3 would be followed by levying of a tariff on the goods imported from his native California and then turned into the far western states.

He quoted Hon. W. D. Miller, member of Macdonald's late cabinet, as saying: "The American government may change its tariff schedule and you may as well be sure of it."

The president also told his audience which strived into the Pacific coast lumbering country that Columbia's lumber business with the United States had practically collapsed under present tariff laws.

Of major importance at a time when workers for the election of Governor Franklin Roosevelt are calling Hoover the "gray leader of the tariff" was his own tariff writer. "Any prohibition stand will not allow the United States to compete in the world market," he said, "and this is the only way to save the tariff problem."

He also said that the federal government against invasion of one state by another and with the nation's border.

A dynamic tariff assertion came from Weston Baker, former secretary of War, now campaigning for Governor. THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

"THE DAILY ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER is published every afternoon except on Sundays and public holidays at the Ontario Intelligence Building, 400 King Street West, Toronto, Ont. Price, 10c per copy."

THE BARKER IDEA

The idea of a barter which a year ago or so ago looked upon as a thing of the past which could not be resurrected to find a place in the present, advanced in the past few days, late yesterday and this morning, has not only been resurrected, but it has been given a new lease of life. William E. Schuster, suggested the barter principle as one of infinite possibilities for the exchange of products between Canada and the United Kingdom. "He did not see the exchange of the British products which was opening up a vista of great possibilities."

Another Canadian bank from Europe, Hon. Col. Henry Cockburn, formerly lieutenant-governor of Ontario, stated at Montreal his belief that a system of direct barter without exchange of currency between all parts of the Empire was the goal towards which the Empire should now work. "There is no doubt that the barter system, which he remarks as "without exchange of currency."

Originally the premier lieutenant-governor of Ontario has read clearly the trend in the world, particularly since the Imperial Economic Conference.

More of the barter principle is to be heard among public men in the near future.

ROMANTIC PAST, MECHANICAL PRESENT

Under the title "Oggs and Whistles", Hamilton Spectator, writes of the saving office equipment elsewhere which has been held in Toronto, with a new machine, perfected and manufactured since the depression set in and probably the first of its kind in the world. "The business man who is not to call at his office, say 'Good Morning, Cogs and Whistles' and then go to work, but to play golf, trusting to the machinery to carry out the work for him."

The Spectator editor wonders if the great business romance through such perpetuating is not too long and if it is the last of the past were built up in a move decide in the future, it is a letter press. "In those days the boss scratched his head and pondered and his office staff sat on a high stool at a higher desk. Then the cabinet was a spike, and the modern means is certain that throughout the business year."

The Spectator has been able to point out differences, laying the stress on the simplicity of the past but it is doubtful if it has an empty, and romantic system in this age, competing with others, and there will be no let-up in the demand for office equipment no matter how modern it is.

ROBINSON CRUSOE'S ISLAND

Robinson Crusoe's Island must have been in the imagination, a visit to its shores reveals that it is not a dream, but a reality. New York Times tells the tale of the island. "And where were the blacks that so alarmed Crusoe? In their midst, a traditional tale of the Presidents of Chile and their American hang-on. Defoe's goats were seen on the island, but not in the time of Robinson Crusoe, or rather Alexander Selkirk, his companion. A weary, tortoise ancient led 1,800 feet up to the lookout from which, for five long years, he watched the horizon for the ship. The spot is marked by a stone and the officers of the British Navy in 1868. Were they honoring Alexander Selkirk, a sailing master of the Cinque Ports when he was captured by the British in 1704, and a Lieutenant in the Royal Navy, was he killed? Or was he not?"

"No, this is not the desert island of boyhood dreams, and the desert island of political officers has a definite location. The map, drawn by the British, found only in Defoe's imaginary geography. Latitude and longitude. Great sailing compass, and the British found nothing in the quest. We must wing a thrifter on the pinions of Defoe's imagination. It is your boy adventure clad in a fringed leather jacket bound in a department and armed with a heavily worn gun, as Crusoe would have called it, the fearless paddling in the backwash, who makes the flight with ease. Unsuccessful rovers. The clad in marooned clothing and earning a living by catching lobsters, like langousts or crayfish, and the cannibals that must be watched. And this rocky island described so romantically by the botanical gentleman in the London Times?"

See Friday's footprint in the snow knows how to look. Crusoe's parrot whistling and the bird's song, his bark, his roars, his screams. Crusoe himself shouted to Friday in the force that he must not take the London steamer, as the London boatman did, to look for them."

THE LOST GENERATION

Within a few days there will be celebrated the day on which the Great War was brought to a close—the day which has become a Day of Remembrance, when we think of the millions of men who died not as conquerors and triumph but as the sacrifice of a generation which has disappeared from the earth for the sake of an ideal.

Sacrificed to the wrong of war and to the patriotic ideal which bids men stand for principles, a generation which would now have been coming into its full bloom, went away to war and did not come back to normal. The brain of the war at the front went off to those who would now be between thirty-five and forty-five years of age. Those were the young of the years 1914-1918 who should have been at play or preparing for their life-work, now battling away in the trenches at a calling which has resulted in the loss of their lives. In the fields where are sown the bodies of millions of a generation of the world, there is a generation which has been the leaders of today, but in their stead are older men who are not qualified to handle the unique problems created by such a catastrophe in the history of the world. The rich youth of the world, poured out by the young idealists of 1914, are now heavily burdened with the weight of blood. It is not beyond the mark to say that there is not the slightest chance of crime ministers, promoters, and churchmen and business leaders, post-war, who were now up in the red blast and the ashes of war.

Of course many came back—some as soldiers and some as civilians, but they had been estranged and changed. They were not the same while they themselves were passing through the crucible which did not leave them the same as when they came out. Then there was the older generation which would have been the backbone of the control of affairs but which has no longer at the posts of duty to try and bring the world back to normal. The generation which has come upon mankind as a result of the war is the generation of the future. Governor-Reson, recently referred to many of the returned men as living in a world which is not their world. They are not the same. Their dead comrades are closer to them than hands or feet.

It is no wonder that the world turned to violence. The generation of the future, which has come upon mankind as a result of the war, is the generation of the future. Governor-Reson, recently referred to many of the returned men as living in a world which is not their world. They are not the same. Their dead comrades are closer to them than hands or feet.

London Daily Herald. A Labor paper fears that the inability to find profitable investments for money is a grave danger to the country. It says that the consequence of the loss of the interest rate on deposits in the banks. It is further proof of the importance of investing in a federal loan which is disappearing, and confidence is returning.

DOING ONE'S BEST
Al Smith, though in the midst of a political campaign should stop the other night in the midst of the supreme need of the moment which called for the presence of a woman who was able to assist in the relief of the present distress.

It was said that no man would be able to look back upon this period with personal satisfaction who did not now do his utmost best for the people who are suffering from the winter.

Smith might have spoken those words for Belleville as well as for New York City.

THE SEED
Only in the dark does the seed grow. Only in the darkness does the light. So that, in the end, the flower May-time day burst up to greet the light. Hidden there, how strangely growing, Lying there, bravely awaiting order with death.

For a time my life a seed is, Waiting in a useless, silent place; Can it be that out of sorrow Strength will rise to seek again joy's face?

Let me work the spell of wonder, Let me strangely find a light in darkness strength; Let many moons of sadness Let my life unfold to light at length!

LEISURE

In a number of newspapers advice has been given as to the community work that those who find leisure lagging on their hands, for instance, the unemployed, should do. This centres upon reading, in libraries to improve the mind and in the reading of periodicals which after family use may pass to those who cannot buy them.

The Community Welfare Council of Ontario has endorsed a province-wide campaign to assist in the community by supplying recreation facilities suited to community needs and considerations.

As the Dominion and the world for that matter—the Church—which can and does do just this sort of work—guides for those who need direction or feel the need of direction.

Throughout the winter months, especially in the entertainment centres, there will be a number of winter recreation activities well-remembered. Leisure is growing, the winter months are passing, and the season of this is not ended. It is pointed out that the church has a vast mission which is a really immense body of work and that it is the one organization in its moral outlook especially fitted for the task.

In the church many a person finds himself finding leisure.

The New Outlook, the official organ of the United Church of Canada in this country, has a number of articles in this issue and remarks that it is strange that in all the developments of the last few years so little attention has been given to it, though it is the major problem of the modern world. The Outlook carries on and of the promise of much greater leisure in the new world of the future.

It says that one who would stand at the head of the modern world must know men and women should spend their leisure periods of rest and recreation with their families and with their friends, and of the promise of much greater leisure in the new world of the future.

BRITISH FILM AND PUBLIC

Popularity of British
Movies Brings Fine
Array of Films Here

Chris G. Holmes, manager of the Capitol Theatre, announces having definitely secured all the best British Films for exclusive showing in Belleville.

Recently Chris Holmes was accredited prime mover in the promotion of British Films in Canadian Theatres and has done much not only to bring the sterling qualities of English productions before the public, but has instilled a great amount of his own enthusiasm into his fellow managers in the province.

At a recent meeting of managers of the independent circuit owned and operated by Moorehead and Winman Ltd., a motion was passed that the cinema should have first runs of all the best British films and the reaction of Belleville theatre-goers to these films would be used as an example and as a means of increasing the cinema's enthusiasm for other films.

Manager Holmes states very definitely that Belleville movie fans appreciate British films beyond question and that the supreme intelligence and cleanliness of these pictures is a factor which has made the public positively demanding of British land's motion pictures.

THE SUNSHINE GROUP

— "Good Companions" — J. J. Priestley's world famous novel as a stage play.

— "There Goes the Bride", a musical picture which will immediately win Belleville hearts.

— "Bargain Basement" — Cecil Robert's engaging story of an artist located in a department store.

— "The Man from Toronto" — Douglas Murray's comedy starring Douglas.

— "Man of Aran" an epic similar to "Nanook of the North" and "Moana".

— "Midshipmated" — a hilarious comedy of naval life by the author.

 In addition to the "Sunshine Group" productions made by the British International with studios at Ebbw Vale, Eng., have been books

"JACK'S THE BOY"
"Jack's the Boy" will appear exclusively at the Capitol next week, and as Holly Young would surely be a first-class singing picture critic, we publish his short but expressive critique of "Jack's the Boy."

HURRAY: Whoopee and au-like. Believe it or not, folbelieve we have a worthy sucto "Sunshine Sue" and with old "Sue's" friend, Jack Hulbert, the leading role. It is called "Jacthe Boy," and it is a rip-roar-comedy with songs. If I had had song like "Honey," I feel so Happy
I could have to say outright it is another "Sue," but unfortunately the music has not quite the same appeal, although there are several amusing numbers, particularly

The story opens with Hubert-do-well son of a Scotland Yard inspector, taking a job at the London police force to show his father he can stick it. This decision is reached following a painful scene between father and son, resulting from daddy's penchant for a gay and giddy life. Nature will have its way as the force there waits opportunity for humor.

We give them the design they wanted — the "Vee Lay" — the position of heel and toe plates — the balance — and all the roller design. Even a new skate need not be milled and last-treated for the blades and a reinforcement invented for the heel. It is any wonder this skate has met with the acclaim of hockey players the world over? Oilers Nearly Blasted Hopes Of Hamilton Tigers in Mud

Sarnia Defeated 15-1 At Half Time
Hamilton, Nov. 21 (CP)—Hamilton Tigers pointed today toward the Western Canadian Football League a faded hope that the intermediate grade team will be able to win the championship.

The "jungle king" took all the day's action in a sudden, early drive, but the Tigers were not able to score. The game was a 15-1 victory for Sarnia.

One of the most grilling battles ever in a game ended that was because the Sarnia had enough left in the fourth quarter, that got the Tigers into a 15-1 victory.

It was the first major score made in the history of the game. The Sarnia had enough left in the fourth quarter, that got the Tigers into a 15-1 victory.

TALLULAH BAKESHAD ROBERT MONTGOMERY NEW SCREEN CO-STAR

Introducing Tallulah Bakeshad and Robert Montgomery—two of the newest combinations of screen stars. They appear together for the first time as co-stars of "Tallulah Bakeshad," which is the feature picture at the Belle Theatre, Monday.

Bessie Bakeshad was borrowed from Paramount to play the feminine lead in this drama of the penniless girl who is saved by a millionaire. It is his first engagement away from the studio which brought her from the London stage to the screen.

To add lustre to the occasion, the picture is being presented by Robert Montgomery for the family of the picture.

GANGLAND IN GLOOM

Gangland in Chicago appears to be relinquishing its hold upon the people as a result of the recent economic conditions of the world. The gang have been scattered, and the general financial conditions of the world. The gang have been scattered, and the general financial conditions of the world.

It is said that the biggest hovers and grovellers about the way things are going with the gang are the hovers and grovellers about the way things are going with the gang.

One of the hovers and grovellers about the way things are going with the gang is the hovers and grovellers about the way things are going with the gang. It is said that the biggest hovers and grovellers about the way things are going with the gang.

Gangsters do not risk their precious lives in distant chances for a little to too much for these heroes who do not to the gangsters, much less for a little to too much for these heroes who do not to the gangsters.

Everything proves that crime is costly to the gangsters, much less for a little to too much for these heroes who do not to the gangsters.

It is an undoubted fact that the people have been led away to gang control and suffer as a result. This gang business was made easy because of civic interest and because of easy money.

Recently Dr. Harry E. Fosdick, director of the Division of Social Sciences of the University of Toronto, has said that the moral of all this is that the people must ever be on the alert to foster love of the law and to foster love of the law.

SAFETY ON HILLS

The plea for safety for children using slides on hills as advocated by Mr. W. J. J. yesterday, has been taken up by all to all citizens. Many people know the hill on vacant land on the north side of the city, and that there is a great danger in the use of this place by children.

HAVING HOME REAL REASON THATSKINGING

Dr. Bisch Discusses Home and its Attraction

By LOUIS K. BISCH, M.D., Ph.D., author of "Home and Health and Home and Health."

THE WILL OF FLESH

How strong, how fierce the will of flesh. How great its pride, its power to rend. The veils in which we would enmesh.

Our mortal beings, to ascend. A way from man on spirit's wings. To reach the truth which has no end!

When we would flesh these lesser things. How cunningly the flesh can tear. The bonds, how greedily it clings.

To all of beauty it can cling. To all of beauty it can cling. To all of beauty it can cling.

And yet, and yet a little time. And all its pulsing passions fade. In withered vesture gone, damaged;

While truth to all is ever true. Aline Michaelis.

PORK CHOPS, three pounds for 29c. This is a most unusual price. Well, we thought when pork chops dropped to twenty-five cents a pound that rock-bottom had been reached—now, lo and behold, the price drops even lower, to twenty-four cents a pound.

And yet, and yet a little time. And all its pulsing passions fade. In withered vesture gone, damaged;

While truth to all is ever true. Aline Michaelis.

Administration of Estate By Lord Shaughnessy is Criticized in Judgment

Mortimer Davis Estate, Once of Fifty Million Had
As Its Chief Assistant of Canadian Industrial Alcohol Ltd.

TRUSTEESHIP MATTER FOR QUEBEC LAW

Every Imputation of Fraud Had Disappeared And Real Issues Were Not of Law But of Fact, Judgment Declares.

London, Nov. 25 (C.P. Cable).—In one of the lengthiest judgments ever delivered by the highest tribunal in the Empire, the judicial Committee of the Privy Council today dismissed the appeal of Lady Mortimer Davis and Mortimer Davis, Jr., from rulings of the Quebec court, which refused their claim to remove Lord Shaughnessy and Alexander Repper as trustees and executors of the estate of the late Sir Mortimer Davis.

But throughout the judgment no criticism of the administration of the estate of Lord Shaughnessy was made. The court was satisfied that the trustees had acted with regard to the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Ltd. and that the estate was a valuable one.

The trustees had acted with regard to the Canadian Industrial Alcohol Ltd. and that the estate was a valuable one.

THE KIAN VICTORY BACK

To the Top Tailors "Price of Quality"

In the past few years the country has been flooded with cheap clothing—most of it sub-standard merchandise—accompanied by a great babble of claims about price and value.

Naturally, in times like these, thousands of men turned to this cheaper "tailoring." We couldn't blame them, for the prices would tempt almost anyone.

But the gold was only gilt! Now, disillusioned and wiser by experience, these men are turning to TIP TOP TAILORS—convinced that it pays to buy quality merchandise, after all.

They realize, now, that TIP TOP TAILORS' production of fine custom-tailoring is no overnight affair, for behind every TIP TOP garment is the guarantee of a firm that, in twenty years, has grown into the greatest one-price tailoring house in the world. A TIP TOP garment will never be an orphan. Tomorrow, or ten years from tomorrow, TIP TOP TAILORS will be at your service to make good their guarantee and to fulfill every promise.

TIP TOP clothes are faultlessly tailored to individual measure. Fabrics are the finest British mills can produce, in exclusive designs and weaves. Fit is guaranteed perfect. The things that count in fine clothes are the standards upon which each TIP TOP suit and overcoat is made. And yet you pay only the "Price of Quality"—$42.50.

THE DAYS OF CONTENT
—illustration herewith depicting—
"The Higher Ups of 1880" is typical of the time. Folk were more content in those days, it did not take so much to satisfy them, as a matter of fact the choice was extremely limited compared with the variety available today. Men were content to ride a horse, when a bicycle, just imagine that, and women had not yet got the yen to ride on such contraptions, for split skirts were not looked upon with favor in the weekly shopping circle. By the look of the man on the high-wheel bike, he is going somewhere, or thinks he is. He might rather

FIRST JOB MAKING CHURCH PEWS

John E. Parks, contracting builder, is enthusiastic in his mission to add to the supply of wood and as a consequence his crews in performing all jobs in which required the ability of an expert woodworker.

Mr. Parks was born in Thurston Township, but spent some years of his early life in the town of Unionville, which is in the county of York. In June of the year 1889 he returned to Belleville and has since then lived there.

It was on a Saturday afternoon that Mr. Parks arrived in Belleville and he was not long in getting a job as in the following Monday morning he was in the wood working plant of Harris & Watson, his first job was the making of pews for St. Roman Catholic Church which were being erected in this country.

At this time the carpenter was becoming very popular and many of them now standing in Belleville were built by Mr. Parks. At Belleville he also carved woodwork, the largest one in the town of Belleville.

Mr. Parks assisted in making the large frame and doors for the entrance to the tower of St. Mary's Cathedral in Kingston and he helped in the building of the tower, the last set being one hundred and fifty feet above the ground.

When the late Dr. Gibson built his handsome residence at the corner of Fennell and Campbell streets, now occupied by Dr. G. H. Hobbs, Mr. Parks did the interior woodwork and it was a very finished job.

In the building of the first Hotel Quatre Mr. Parks was engaged on the interior woodwork, and in the course of the job he stood for six weeks and earned the $1000 on the semi-dormer office corner.

The large columns at the front of the place in the Capitol Theatre were made by Mr. Parks, also the hotel office and most of the interior woodwork. Mr. Parks specializes in the building of lamp-stands, screens, porches and verandas. He also enjoys making good chairs, medicine cabinets and trays.

He makes these articles remarkably well and many persons have been much pleased with the work and finish of the articles purchased from him.

Many homes in Belleville have been made, many painted drawings by the use of Chamberlain's famous metal weather strip for which Mr. Parks is

Mr. Parks was a member of the city council for eight years, the last year being 1912. He did not see re-elected as his time was fully occupied as Clerk of Works for the Ontario Government in the building of the first dormitory at the Ontario
